In-Mould labels: Winners Labels LLP is an Indo-Korean joint venture organization that has become the most trusted corporate partner for numerous product manufacturers across the country.

Injection Mould Labelling is a process where the In-mould film is placed into the mould where pre-heated plastic is injected at high pressure, when the mould opens the container is ready and decorated with the label. The labels have substrates designed for different production conditions that can be used in all plastic processing systems. The label is perfectly integrated into the container, keeping the brilliance of print for life long. This can be done either manually or in automatic mode.
