Reasons Behind the Increase in Pharma Exports from India.: The pharmaceutical industry in India has achieved tremendous success, employing a significant number of people across the country. Numerous large and medium-scale pharma companies operate in India, offering drugs and medicines at prices considerably lower than those in Western countries. This affordability has spurred a growing demand for pharmaceutical exports from India.

The Indian government has been proactive in promoting the pharma industry, and its support has intensified, especially in light of the recent COVID-19 pandemic.

The Indian pharmaceutical industry is thriving on the global stage. Several key factors have contributed to its remarkable success and the widespread acceptance of its pharmaceutical products.
